Burned down 1920s-1930s 1634 Kensington Road

1873 – An Account of houses standing in the south part of Kensington 100 years since – Griswold Family Scrapbook: The place now occupied by Truman Cole with an old house on it was then occupied by his father. This house burned in the 1920s or 1930s, but was located at or near 1634 Kensington Road. The property record states it was built in 1920, possibly on the foundation as an older house. Truman Cole (1807-1876) was the son of Job Cole (1762-1825) and grandson of Nathan Cole II (1716-1778). During the early twentieth century it was the home of John Molumphy, owner of the Connecticut Valley Orchard Co. Molumphy was living there at the time if his death in 1923. Later it was occupied by Chester Hrubiec and family.
